Talk to DeAnn. Help is needed in a variety of ways!
I don't have much time- how can I help?
You could donate supplies, research, or make phone calls.

One thing I can change about my self is..

Parents Corner- The "Me" Society

How do you raise a child today in the generation know as the "me" society? It is going to be a bigger challenge than our parents ever faced. Society has change drastically. School shootings, terrorism and severe violence are unfortunately common.

The best thing to remember is to be honest with your child and have an open two way communication. Open communication is the key. Honesty on both sides (parent and child) is crucial. You can tell your child what is happening in the world without being too brutal or graphic.

Parents please remember that kids today are facing pressures that would be completely unfamiliar to us. Kids today need guidance and consistency. Studies have show that a child will excel when a regular routine is present. This can be as simple as checking their homework every night. When you discipline your child please remember to follow through with the punishment. Be fair but do not give in! Kids really need to know that what you say will happen.

If anyone has any parent suggestions or tips for our next newsletter please submit them to DeAnn by September 1. Thanks !
